

Tuesday 12th March 2019

We started our day by being woken up at 7 O'clock by Mr Christopher banging on our door, to then get ready for our first trip into Paris. We then headed into the canteen's function room to make our lunch. After that, we had breakfast: cereal, croissants, yogurt and fruit.

A while later, we got on the coach and headed to Brie, where our activity for the morning took place. This activity consisted of being challenged to speak to the locals to plan an imaginary meal that was going to be given to one of Alan 'Sucre's' clients.

After completing the activity, we got some free time to buy souvenirs at the market. Then we got back onto the coach to go to the Sacre Coeur. When we got there, we got a chance to go into Sacre Coeur (a beautiful white basilica) and look around, which gave a sense of peace and had lots of stain glass windows, sculptures and a huge church organ.

Next, we went to Montmatre Square and got our portraits drawn by artists. The artists had very unique styles. We also had crepes, which were very delicious. Lastly, we got back on the coach and, after an hour and a half drive, came back to PGL ready for dinner.

By Imogen R, Abby S and Amy S

For photos and to follow us throughout the day head to @emmanuelmiddle or #yr7frenchtrip on twitter.